

Dhaval Brahmbhatt, Founder, President & CEO, Phychip

BIOGRAPHY

Mr. Brahmbhatt has over 30 years of experience in a variety of technologies such as Semiconductor Memory (Flash, Flash Cards, Smart Cards, EEPROM/EPROM, ROM, SRAM, DRAM), internal driver circuits, Non-volatile memory based micro-controllers, Flash/EEPROM based programmable logic, high-speed communications, subsystems/ modules, solid state storage and renewable energy technologies as a serial entrepreneur, seasoned executive, technologist, and as a team builder. Mr. Brahmbhatt has successfully built teams from ground-up and has managed teams spread over continents. He is a creative engineer awarded with 11 US patents and is a recognized Technical Expert for over 15 years in IP litigation including areas such as Solid State Drives, IC memories, Flash memory cards/modules, logic circuits, sense amplifiers, driver circuits, controllers, etc. At National Semiconductor, Mr. Brahmbhatt had P & L responsibility for ~ $150 million Non-Volatile Memory IC product line and managed ~ 100 professionals spread over two locations. He was also in charge of managing Flash Memory alliance with Toshiba Corporation at National Semiconductor. Mr. Brahmbhatt has hands-on experience of managing people and resources, making business plans, program management and marketing of advanced concept based products & services. He brings many years of experience managing collaborations with international partners such as Asahi-Kasei (Japan), Hyundai (Korea), Toshiba (Japan), etc. Mr. Brahmbhatt can communicate in six languages and has the experience of working with top level executives in US and international companies.