

Rick Kumar, Vice President of Engineering, Newisys Division of Sanmina

BIOGRAPHY

Rick Kumar leads the Engineering organization for the Newisys Division of Sanmina Corporation. He is responsible for product concept, design, volume production and end-of-life management for data center storage server platforms. After earning both Bachelor and Master's Degrees in Hardware Engineering from Colorado State University, Rick spent 16 years at Oracle, where he was Engineering Director in 2011 before joining Newisys Division of Sanmina Corporation.